

Sound judgement

Noises range from excruciatingly loud to imperceptibly quiet; fortunately most fall somewhere between the two extremes.

Rank the volume levels that you have been exposed to, from loudest to quietest. Describe the source of the sound; were some more bearable than others?

Stimulate Creative Thinking

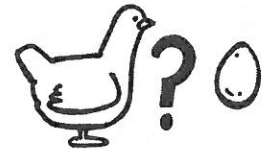

© Will Hussey and Brilliant Publications

This page may be copied for use by the purchasing institution only.

Under hand

In an ideal world fair play, endeavour and ability would surely be rewarded.

Do cheats ever prosper? Can you think of any instances when dishonest tactics, lying or cheating have been rewarded?

Stimulate Creative Thinking

© Will Hussey and Brilliant Publications

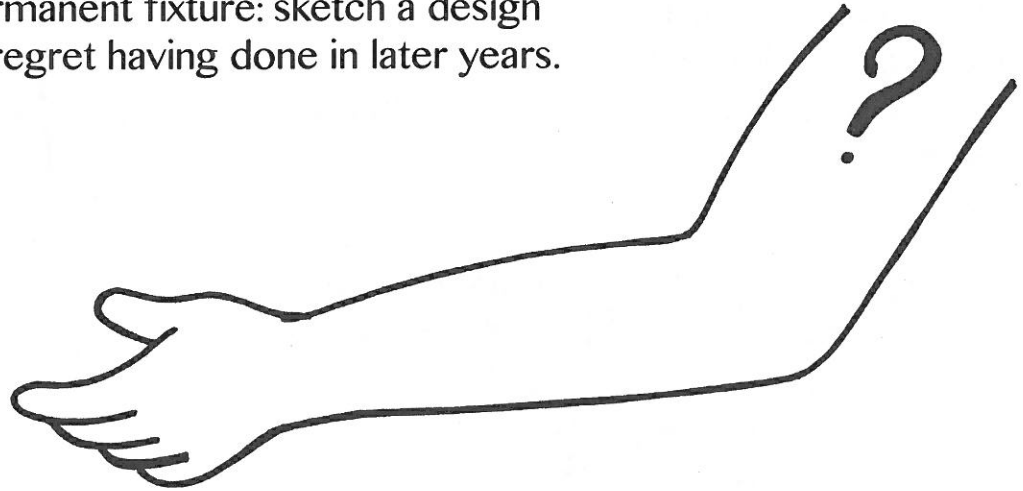

This page may be copied for use by the purchasing institution only.

Ink well?

Body art is becoming increasingly popular, with people expressing a wide variety of pictures, words and patterns by using their skin as a canvas.

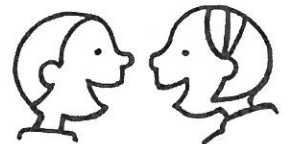

A tattoo is a permanent fixture: sketch a design that you might regret having done in later years.

.....
This page may be copied for use by the purchasing institution only.

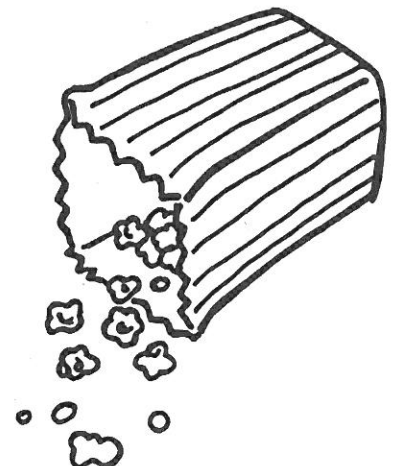

Stimulate Creative Thinking
© Will Hussey and Brilliant Publications

Flicks chart

Everyone has a shortlist of favourite films, although we have all endured movies that remain in the memory for the wrong reasons.

Conduct a straw poll of friends and family to determine the most unpopular films: do they have anything in common? Is there a way to ensure the same mistake is not repeated?

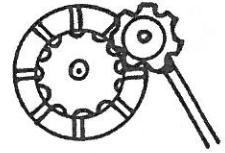

.....
This page may be copied for use by the purchasing institution only.

Stimulate Creative Thinking
© Will Hussey and Brilliant Publications

Double vision

Three-dimensional printers are beginning to reproduce items ranging from car parts to dolls' houses.

Choose a three-dimensional object and using card, try to replicate it as closely as you can. Evaluate your attempt when you have completed it: what could you do differently next time?

Stimulate Creative Thinking

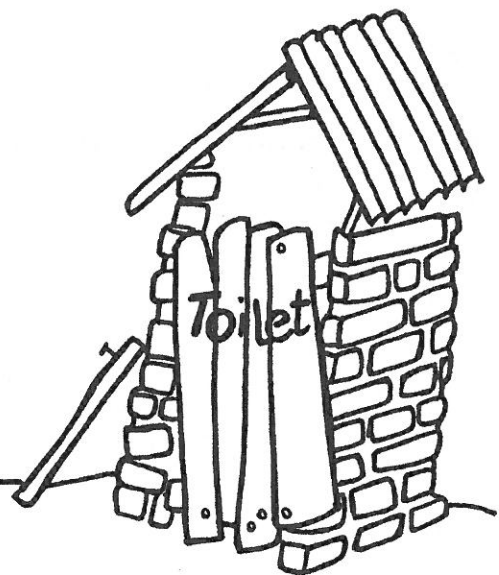

© Will Hussey and Brilliant Publications

This page may be copied for use by the purchasing institution only.

Written off

There is sometimes talk of how great life used to be in 'the good old days'. Of course, things often appear rosier with a little hindsight.

What was it like in 'the bad old days'? Consider how things have changed for the better and list some comparisons.

Stimulate Creative Thinking

© Will Hussey and Brilliant Publications

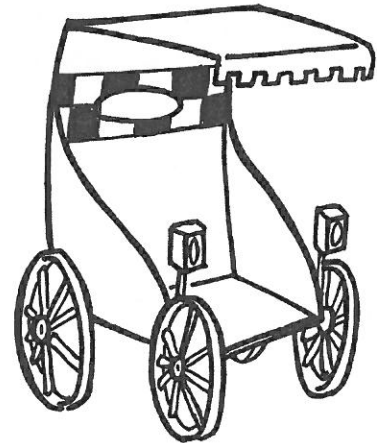

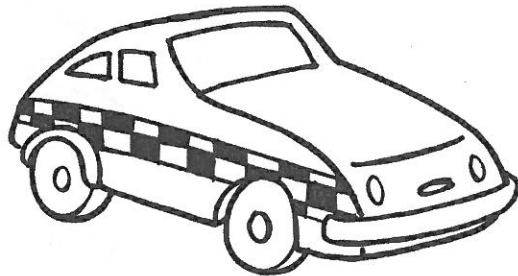

This page may be copied for use by the purchasing institution only.

Carriage clocked

Horse and carts preceded motorcars as a method of public transport.

Consider a motorized vehicle that you have recently travelled in; sketch how an 'equivalent' carriage may have looked in days gone by when it was powered by horses.

This page may be copied for use by the purchasing institution only.

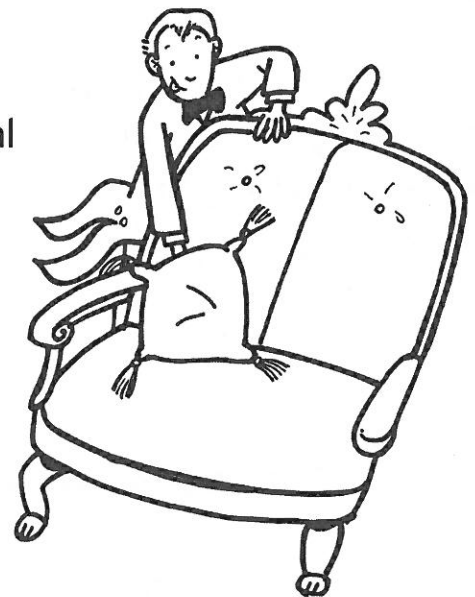

Stimulate Creative Thinking
© Will Hussey and Brilliant Publications

Written constitution

It is amazing what you can sometimes find wedged down the back or sides of a settee.

Imagine the queen's servants have not been as scrupulous in their duties as they perhaps should have: what might you find down the back of a royal sofa?

This page may be copied for use by the purchasing institution only.

Stimulate Creative Thinking
© Will Hussey and Brilliant Publications